The 1966 Oraculum

The Defiance College
Defiance, Ohio

Yesterday is but today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream . . .

Even while we designated 1965-66

“the dedication year”

... opening new buildings

... drawing new designs

even while we celebrated with pride,

we were aware of the inherent irony and vanity...

For dedication is not a matter of time or tangibles.

At The Defiance College

Dedication is a function of the liberated mind and the open heart.

We therefore dedicate this book to all the years,

their accumulated experience and their future yield.

We dedicate ourselves to the ideas that make new realities to service that eliminates distress to change

and to growth.

IN MEMORIAM

Mr. Herman Dally

Mr. Herman Dally was born on June 26, 1908. He received both his B.S. in Education and his Masters Degree from Ball State. In 1944 he came to Defiance and was with the Physical Education Department until 1950. At that time he was head basketball coach. He was acting Dean of the college from 1950 to 1956. The following year he was Registrar, and from 1957 to 1962 he taught in the Sociology Department. For the next three years, Mr. Dally taught geography, and he retired in 1965.

On June 12, 1965, Mr. Dally passed away; but many here at The Defiance College remember him as a man who played a great part in helping our college grow.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

To the Class of 1965-66:

This Dedication Year of 1965-66 has been one in which we have laid foundations on which the future of this college will be built. Those of you who are graduating will leave a part of yourselves here. This college is better for your having been with us.

I know that I speak for everyone here when I wish you happiness, success and self-fulfillment in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

W. Noel Johnston

COLLEGE IS BUILDING...

LUXURIOUS DORMITORY ROOMS
IN VIEW

D. C. SCENES

KEVIN McCANN STUDY CENTER

COLLEGE COMMUNITY CENTER

DANA HALL

Dana Hall is one of the newest buildings on campus. Here students attend classes, labs, and convocations, and stop in at professors' offices.

SUTPHEN MUSIC CENTER

TENZER HALL

TROWBRIDGE HALL

SISSON HALL

The Music Center is located on the northwest corner of the campus. It houses the music facilities of the college. Tenzer Hall becomes the familiar home of science and business administration students who spend many hours there. Not far from Tenzer stands Trowbridge in its final year as a men's dorm. In the basement of Trowbridge is the Art Center, perhaps the best place on campus for a student to express his creativity. Then there is Sisson Hall, home of the college theater as well as many campus men.

These are only some of the buildings on the Defiance campus . . . buildings which each have distinct personalities to add to a college atmosphere.

WHITNEY HALL

Whitney Hall during 1965-66 is the only girls' dormitory.

HICKORY HUTS

A peaceful evening falls on the Hickory Huts, temporary buildings which house faculty offices and the campus mail room.

The Delta Pi Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta began the year with a retreat to St. Mary's Lake where they planned and began their Homecoming preparations. Homecoming saw the Xi's represented by the Sophomore and Junior attendants. In October the sorority danced as go-go girls for the Theta Xi fraternity. There was a fall rush and ranks grew to 42 members. With the help of the new sisters the active held a Shipwreck Dance for their fall function. In December an Alpha Xi was chosen Queen of the Christmas Dance; and later the sorority's Christmas party was held at an adviser's home. Second semester found the sorority frantically making plans for their rush party, "Showboat." That weekend the 42 actives were joined by 14 pledges. As spring sprung the Fuzzies planned an Old Town Dance with a fashion show at half time.

The Alpha's are looking forward to next year which hopefully will prove to be as fun-filled and as rewarding as the past year.

Rushees are entertained at the "Showboat" party.

The Beta Sigma Sorority, having been founded in 1917, has progressed steadily upward and this year has participated in one of its most prosperous and productive years.

The Beta Sisters began their activities promptly in September with the annual tennis court dance. In October a Senior Sister was crowned Homecoming Queen; and later in the year the sisters held a closed dinner-dance party at The Black Angus in Kalida. To add to their already activity-filled schedule, the Betas began second semester with twenty-five pledges who, during a fun-filled pledging period, succeeded in putting on a swingin' Sadie Hawkins Dance. After Hell Week was over, all the pledges breathed a sigh of relief and participated in their first event as actives, the Strawberry Festival. Among the Betas activities were also various service projects including the Teke-Beta Children's Home Picnic and the continuation of an adoption program for Shirley Bourke, their own adopted Indian child.

The Gamma Omega Kappa Sorority is a small local sorority. Sincerity, good academic standing, and college enthusiasm are some of the goals for which they strive.

Throughout the year the Gammas proved themselves outstanding in all these areas by the honors they received and the activities in which they participated. In October the Gammas had their first success of the year by winning third place float award in the Homecoming parade. Later in the fall they had a closed party at The Black Angus in Kalida; and in December they held their annual Christmas party. First semester was highlighted for the Gammas by their receiving the highest point average of all Greeks. Then in the spring one of their members was chosen the 1966 Spring Carnival Queen.

Pledging brought them 19 new members who loved Snoopy just as much as the actives did. Snoopy was their mascot for the entire year because they all agreed that "Happiness is being a Gamma."

Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity, founded nationally in 1899 and locally in 1921, is not only the largest college fraternity in the world, but also the largest Greek organization on campus.

TKE provides a select, well-rounded group of undergraduate men with opportunities for increased social activities and a high quality bond of friendship. A wide range of personalities broadens the social and personal qualities of each man, supplementing to a large degree, the academic training provided by the college.

During the past year, the Tekes have well demonstrated the power of a strong brotherhood. For the second consecutive year, TKE won first place in both float and decorations competition at Homecoming. Among other accomplishments were two formal dances, the addition of a library to the house, and a concert featuring Jay and the Americans and The Four Seasons.

The Theta Xi Fraternity was founded on April 29, 1864. On August 20, 1962, Kappa Sigma Kappa Fraternity merged with Theta Xi for a more complete fulfillment of their mission in the fraternity movement.

The purpose of Theta Xi is to provide a college home for its members. Wholesome mental, moral, physical and spiritual growth are stressed by the Thetas as qualities of leadership. Theta Xi actively supports and augments college and community efforts to make individual members more mature and confident individuals in society. The Thetas received many governmental, athletic, and scholarly honors on campus during 1965-1966, and many brothers held important offices in campus government.

The Thetas had numerous open and closed functions during the year, climaxed by the annual Sweetheart Dance. The year was highlighted for the Thetas by having the highest scholastic average of the fraternities on campus during the first semester.

Jose and Larry talk about some of the Theta trophies.

On May 8 the Concert Choir sang various selections from Bach to Gershwin for their part in the Festival of the Arts.

COMMUNITY ORCHESTRA

Also on May 8 the Community Orchestra contributed to the Festival of the Arts by playing Beethoven, Haydn, and an original Nocturne by Mr. Charles Partchey.

CONCERT BAND

The College Concert Band gave their last performance of the year on Friday, May 6, when they presented a program of traditional and contemporary music. Here members of the band are shown as they provide the music for Baccalaureate and Commencement.

DEFENDER

Robinson, Ed Dean, Ed Jauchem, Ellen Langstaff, Chad McDonald, Brooks Bramley.

The Defender is Defiance College's weekly newspaper. Teri Tuckey, Editor, and Ben McNeal, News Editor, worked hard during the year in order to report accurately the everyday activities of the campus.

The paper has shown continuous improvement, and it was eagerly anticipated each week as a foremost voice of campus news.

Ben and Teri discuss some pictures to be used in next week's Defender.

PROGENY

Ed Jauchem, Robert Dartan, and Timothy Chadsey represent the Progeny staff.

Tim and Bob discuss an article that has been submitted.

The Progeny is the Defiance College campus literary magazine which is published twice each year. The artistic and literary efforts of many students and faculty members are published.

ORACULUM

Judy Rose, Betty Berry, Pam Goller, Faith Meister, Ruth Warncke; Missing: Diane Selikowitz, Caren Bridges, Carol Brown, and Marilyn Bowditch.

The Oraculum, the Defiance College yearbook, is the product of many months of work and the efforts of many people who contributed their time, talents, and ideas. As one of the voices of communication on campus, the Oraculum is an attempt to capture the year with words and pictures.

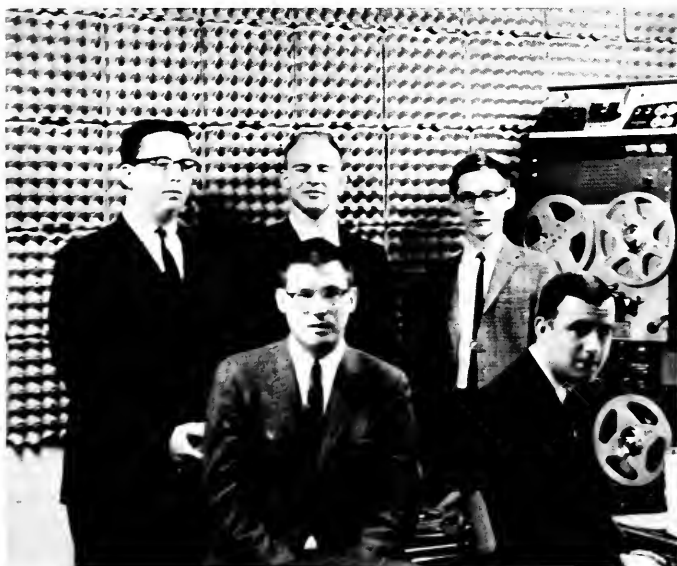

Greg Chase, yearbook photographer, and Pam check over some prints to be used in the 1966 Oraculum.

OUR TOWN

George and Emily leave the scene of their wedding as they prepare to build a future.

It seemed like a quiet evening in Grover's Corners, but the gossiping women carried on.

The first College Theater production in the fall was Thornton Wilder's play Our Town. The action of this 20th century play took place in Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, where the lives of two families were delved into and the audience saw many happy as well as sad events. It was a very moving play, and it will probably be produced again in future generations.

Our Town is a popular college production throughout the country for not only do audiences enjoy it, but so do the actors.

ALL-CAMPUS SING

Lillian Dunlap proudly received the All-Campus Sing trophy after having led Whitney Hall to its second victory in a row. Taking second-place honors was Beta Sigma Sorority while the Campus Christian Fellowship placed third.

This was the third year for the "Sing". Each year more organizations join in the fun by spending hours in practice for the big night when they show off their talent before going home for Christmas vacation.

SPRING CARNIVAL

Dan Terhune represented Tau Kappa Epsilon and Paulette Curtas represented Gamma Omega Kappa as they reigned over Spring Carnival activities.

THE FOUR SEASONS

On April 22, Tau Kappa Epsilon presented Jay and The Americans and The Four Seasons at the College Community Center. Excitement ran high as the popular groups performed for a packed audience of college students from other colleges as well as Defiance, high school students from surrounding areas, faculty members, and community friends.

While the Betas practice for the Bed Race, Paul Highman hangs on in trepidation.

Carren Stiegelmeier tries to keep her balance in the Skate-board Race.

Both the Tekes and the Betas retained their jugs by coming out on top one rainy Tuesday in May at the Spring Olympics. It was the third victory for the Tekes and the second for the Betas, and no one felt the weather as the jugs were carried back to house and dorm.

Denny must have the feeling that Tam is not far behind.

THE WORLD WE LIVE IN

The last Defiance College Theater production of the year was presented as part of the Festival of the Arts in the Sisson Theater on Saturday, May 14.

This play represents a revolt against the extremes of romanticism which were cramping nineteenth century theater. As with any movement which takes over completely, realism became too confining for playwrights, directors, designers and actors. Nearly everyone in theater, except perhaps commercial theater, feels that realism is artistically sterile. One of the earlier attempts to break away from it was the movement known as expressionism. It began in the second decade of this century although its roots lie farther back than that. It is a frankly theatrical movement in that the playwright always remembers that he is working with an art form and makes no pretense to presenting an illusion of reality in character, plot, or locale. The world, in an expressionistic play, is seen as distorted and productions are usually stylized in acting and decor.

Karel and Josef Capek, the authors of the present play, are Czechoslovakian. Karel Capek is probably best known for his play entitled R. U. R., the initials of Rossum's Universal Robots, for which he invented the word "robot" from the Czechoslovakian word "rober" meaning "work". The Insect Comedy was written in 1920 after Capek had noted the strong resemblance to human actions described by J. H. Faber in his La Vie des Insects. The play was banned in Germany under Hitler because of the strong anti-war attitudes expressed in the third act.

Last Words . . .

As we close the pages of another Oraculum, we sincerely hope that you have enjoyed recalling with us the dedication year 1965-1966.

To those who worked with me, I owe a great deal of appreciation. Thanks go to Mrs. Smith for her support and guidance. I would like to thank Mrs. Miller and Mr. Shearman of the art department who helped with layouts and photography. Also, the yearbook could not have been completed without the help of my competent staff; and perhaps most of all, Greg Chase should be thanked for his work as photographer.

Most of the pictures are Greg's; however, we also had other contributions. These are listed as follows: John Rupert 1, 4, 5 (color), 17, 68, 135 (upper); Chad McDonald 7, 15 (lower left), 75, 119, 141 (middle), 145; Jim Spencer, Delmar Representative, 18-65; Lofty Fritz 15 (lower right), 67; Gary Burnside 69. Paul March 104; Don Gwynne 105 (upper), 112 (lower), 121, 122 (upper); Karl Ball 142; Karen Eckert 136 (middle).

Once again, thanks go to those I've mentioned and to many others who helped.
